

What would you do?

1 Correct or not?

Are the statements below correct or not? If not, write down the correct statement.

Example(s): You shouldn't cycle without a helmet. → correct

Children mustn't help parents with the washing up. → not correct: Children don't have to help parents with the washing up

1. Children have to go to school. _____
2. Drugs are illegal so you don't have to take them. _____
3. You mustn't download films from the Internet. _____
4. You don't have to recycle paper but it is a good idea. _____
5. If you go to a friend's house for dinner, you mustn't eat dessert if you're full. _____
6. If you drink three beers, you mustn't drive afterwards. _____
7. You shouldn't drive on the right in Great Britain. _____
8. You should drink lots of orange juice if you have a cold. _____
9. If you work, you have to pay taxes. _____
10. You mustn't drink beer at the Oktoberfest but most people do. _____

2 If, if, if...?

Finish these sentences, using the verb given.

Example: If I lived in the country, I'd get (get) more exercise.

1. My son is so lazy! If he worked harder, he _____ (pass) his exams.
2. I'd cry if I _____ (lose) my mobile!
3. If you didn't want dessert, why _____ (you / order) it?
4. Ann would be really angry if she _____ (know) you took her pullover!
5. If the waitress was rude to me, I _____ (report) her to the manager immediately.
6. He would be much happier if he _____ (not / work) so hard.
7. He doesn't know what he's talking about. If he did, he _____ (not / ask) such stupid questions!
8. Please don't leave; it's too dangerous to drive. If you _____ (have) an accident, I would feel responsible!

3 What would you do if...?

Can you answer the questions in your own words?

→ What would you do if you discovered at the supermarket that you had no money?

→ What would you do if someone stole your wallet?

→ What would you do if you saw a car accident?

→ What would you do if you met someone at a party but you forgot his/her name?

4 At a restaurant

Look at this dialogue and put the sentences in the correct order.

Mr Peabody is in a restaurant with his wife. He calls the waiter:

- 1 a. Mr Peabody: Excuse me!
- b. Waiter: I really do apologise. I'll bring you your chicken soup immediately.
- c. Mr Peabody: It's the soup. I ordered chicken soup and I think this is onion soup.
- d. Waiter: Oh, dear. What's the problem, sir?
- e. Mr Peabody: I'm allergic to onions, you see. That's why I ordered the chicken soup.
- f. Waiter: I'm sorry. Are you sure you don't want to try the onion soup? It's the chef's speciality.
- g. Mr Peabody: No, um, I'm afraid I have to complain.
- h. Waiter: Yes, sir – is everything ok?
- i. Mr Peabody: Thank you!