

1 What can I say?

When the students in the class ask you questions about yourself you'll need to say more than just 'yes' or 'no'. Here are some ideas. Match the answers to the questions below.

- | | | |
|---|--|--|
| <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Yes, a lot. I have three of them! 2. Not really. I'm looking for a new one at the moment. 3. It's OK. I talk to customers in English sometimes. 4. No. I moved here five years ago from ... 5. My wife got a new job with her company 6. Cooking. I often cook dinner for my friends. | | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. Your English is pretty good, isn't it? b. You aren't from here, are you? c. Do you like dogs? d. Why did you move here? e. So, do you have any hobbies? f. Do you like your job? |
|---|--|--|

2 Woman on the outside

In the song 'Tom's Diner' the woman at the counter watches another woman outside in the rain. Imagine that a man in a dark raincoat walks up behind her. Is the woman surprised? Is she afraid? Is she glad to see him? Is she angry with him? Write a few sentences to the song describing what happens next.

Example: And a man walks up behind her while she's standing on the sidewalk.

3 Larry King Live

a Imagine that you are a famous movie star. The CNN reporter Larry King asks you some questions. Write answers to Larry's questions using the words below.

never • every night • sometimes • always • every day • often • once a week

Examples: So Brad, how often do you workout at the gym? – I workout every day.
or: – I never workout at the gym.

How often do you ...

1. ... have your hair done? – _____
2. ... go shopping in Los Angeles? – _____
3. ... eat in expensive restaurants? – _____
4. ... visit Julia Roberts? – _____
5. ... call your agent? – _____

b Now imagine you are Larry King. Write four question you would like to ask your favorite star.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____